CHUSE THE GIANT CONSPIRACY.

The shadow of the great Coal Trust, towards the perfection of which the late ' Reading deal " was the first vital step. is one of the darkest and most threaten ing recently cast upon the interests of abor and of the people in general. The combine is a conspiracy of Speculation against Honest Industry. To every man whose sense of justice has not been dwarfed and subordinated by utterly selfish considerations the necessity of stacking the conspiracy promptly by the be closed at noon of Friday, Feb. 10. most effective methods the law can apply

The transactions involved in the deal pay their own tribute to the ingenuity and conditions: Letters must not contain more shall be allowed to develop as the origmonument to the selfishness and cupidity of powerful and conscienceless corpora-

Representative RAYNER spoke in the House at Washington yesterday ringing and manly words in denunciation of all if the husband is of an extravagant nature; and manly words in denunciation of all trusts that arise to prey upon the people. He showed how ineffective the Interstate Commerce law and the Sherman law have been in their intended work of preventing monopoly and unjust "deals," But, said be, "the contest between these monopolies and the people is one that cannot be avoided."

If the husband is of an extravagant nature: the hose point is of an extravagant nature: the host point is of an extravagant nature: then by and some would the point in the point is of the second in the uninitated. In fact these opera managers took big risks for large stakes, and the large stakes did not materialize. Next season the Opera-House will be in the host of the second in the large stakes did not materialize. Next season the Opera-House will be in the host of the second in the large stakes did not materialize. He was right. By old or new laws the saue must be met. Monopoly must cease week or month or year as his means will allow—not as a business transaction, not to a councily again and produce "The Grey Mare," country again and produce "The Grey Mare," the public interests. Every blow must be planted where it will tell. And if, right here, this new giant, the creation of the plotting coal barons, can be knocked out beyond the possibility of revival, a grand beginning will have been made in a fight beginning will have been made in a fight. that should then be carried to a satisfactory finish on all sides.

ABOTHER OUTLAW CONVICTED. " Guilty," said the jury vesterday, and happy.

The Chicago Gas Trust hired amateur collectors, who, instead of looking at the meters, filled out the statements as they thought proper. The result was such an inflation of bills that the public exploded. It is needless to add that a new system is now in operation.

None Has Better Claim to Salary, To the Editor

Certainly a wife is entitled to a salary from a husband. Are there not millions of cases in which the prosperity of the husband is due to the wife, either by her good management of his domestic affairs, or of his business? To do this in the absence of a wife not only would be pay a salary to a stranger to attend to his interests, but would deem himself only too happy to find a trustworthy person and willingly pay the highest salary his work would comport.
